

Invitation

All the IVV members:

As the unique organization of IVV in China, CVA insists to do the best service for the outdoor sports lovers home and abroad. With the tide of hiking in china, more and more people become hiking enthusiasts, and we organize many large scale events every year.

As we all know that China is a large country with much hiking resources, but there is not a special organization to service for foreign hikers (though travel agency could do it well), considering professional services of outdoor sports, and we must assume the responsibility. So next year we plan to organize international events and invite hikers all over the world to enjoy the foreign scenes. We are sure the visit will make you a pleasantly surprise.

The following are our two international events and welcome your participation:

1. The 2nd International Walking around Himalayas
